I. FOREWORD

Message from the Chairperson of the Wicklow Heritage Forum

I am pleased and honoured, as Chairman of the Wicklow Heritage Forum, to be involved in the production of County Wicklow's second Heritage Plan. This is an ambitious Plan that seeks to complement and build upon the achievements of the previous five years, and to set out targets and practical actions for the next term up to 2014. In a time of economic uncertainty, I believe that this Plan provides us in Wicklow with a valuable framework in which we can take stock of our heritage assets, and work together to maximise benefits for all, particularly in areas such as quality of life, tourism, education and recreation.

The collaborative approach taken to producing this Plan, will I believe, be crucial to its success. This process has been very ably managed by Wicklow County Council's Heritage Officer, Deirdre Burns, and has involved participation of representatives from communities, local authorities, heritage groups, tourism bodies, farming, business and state sectors. The implementation of the previous plan and the work of implementing this current plan could not have happened without the assistance and support of Wicklow County Council and the Heritage Council. In my role as a member of the board of the Heritage Council, I have seen how the implementation of local initiatives in county heritage plans plays a key part in helping the achievement of national targets. Much credit is due to the members of the Heritage Forum who have assisted whole-heartedly in bringing this Plan to fruition, and to members of the public who took part in the various consultation processes.

I wish to take this opportunity to sincerely thank all those involved in the production of this Plan and I look forward to working together in the future to bring about a greater understanding and appreciation of the wonderful built, natural and cultural heritage of our county.

Mr. Noel Keyes
Chairperson of the Wicklow Heritage Forum

Message from the County Manager, Wicklow County Council

Given the wide range of responsibilities and functions of Wicklow Local Authorities, I believe that it is the ideal agency to take the lead in co-ordinating the production and implementation of a five year Heritage Plan for the County. As County Manager I am delighted that Wicklow County Council has once more spearheaded this process, through the role of our Heritage Officer, Deirdre Burns.

The production of the County's first Heritage Plan in 2004, demonstrated that the co-operation of time, effort and financial resources among various local and national bodies could produce significant achievements. That Plan saw the compilation and presentation to the public of information on aspects of our built and natural heritage that may have been previously overlooked. The Heritage Plan, through the generation of information also influences various Council strategies, and in turn the decision making process that flows from these.

The current Heritage Plan seeks to build upon the objectives and actions of the previous Plan in order to secure better understanding and management of our built and natural heritage in County Wicklow. It was produced through a partnership process involving Wicklow County Council, Bray, Arklow, Greystones and Wicklow Town Councils and relevant statutory bodies, business representatives, community and environmental groups and social partners. Following a process of public consultation, the Plan has been officially adopted and endorsed by the members of Wicklow County Council, with a commitment to deliver upon its implementation over its five year lifetime. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those involved in the preparation of the County Wicklow Heritage Plan 2009-14, in particular the Heritage Council for its continued support and guidance, the Chairman of the Heritage Forum, Noel Keyes, members of the Forum, as well as the many people who participated in other ways, through working groups, seminars and meetings, or through participation in the public consultation process. Finally, I would like to thank our Heritage Officer, Deirdre Burns for her input to the preparation and delivery of Heritage Plan actions and to Heritage matters generally in County Wicklow.

This Plan represents a new era of heritage management in County Wicklow, I look forward to its implementation over the next five years, and feel confident that it will bring many benefits for all those living in, working and visiting "The Garden of Ireland."

*Mr. Eddie Sheehy
County Manager, Wicklow County Council*

II. INTRODUCTION

This is the second, five-year Heritage Plan for County Wicklow, prepared by the Wicklow Heritage Forum. It carries forward the overall aim from the previous Plan of “conserving the natural, built and cultural heritage of the county, and increasing awareness and enjoyment of it among all in Wicklow”.

For the purposes of the Plan, heritage is considered to include monuments, archaeology, heritage objects, architecture, flora, fauna, wildlife habitats, landscapes, seascapes, wrecks, geology, heritage gardens and parks and inland waterways, as set out in the Heritage Act 1995. In addition however, the Heritage Forum has decided to include elements of cultural heritage of importance in County Wicklow, in the form of written history, genealogy, placenames, traditional skills and crafts within the scope of this Plan. It is the diversity of heritage in County Wicklow that gives the county its unique character, distinguishing individual towns, villages and rural places, and offering direct benefits to all the people of Wicklow in terms a ‘sense of place’, quality of life, and economic well being. The new Heritage Plan aims to build upon the achievements of the first plan, while taking account of changes in the national and local environment since the publication of the first plan.

CONTEXT – NATIONAL AND LOCAL

The National Heritage Plan (2002) sets out a vision nationally for heritage management, a key part of which centres on the management of heritage locally, through the preparation of Local Heritage Plans. The major themes of the National Heritage Plan (placing heritage at the heart of public life, protecting heritage, acquiring knowledge and promoting awareness) are broadly parallel to those of the County Wicklow Heritage Plan. The central role of the County Heritage Forum and Local Heritage Plans is acknowledged in the National Heritage Plan.

The National Biodiversity Plan (2002) outlines the government’s strategy for biodiversity and calls for the development of biodiversity action plans by local authorities in consultation with local stakeholders. The County Wicklow Heritage Plan aims to deliver this objective through a commitment to prepare a Local Biodiversity Action Plan for County Wicklow and also by collecting data on biodiversity through research and surveys, and promoting awareness of its importance through events, seminars and training.

Both the National Heritage Plan and the National Biodiversity Plan recognise the role of Local Authorities as key partners in co-ordinating the translation of national objectives into local action, and in facilitating and supporting heritage development at a local level.

The County Wicklow Development Plan 2004–2010 is the legal and strategic land use management plan for the county. It provides the primary context in which decisions relating to management of Wicklow’s heritage resources are made. The actions undertaken through the Heritage Plan seek to increase our knowledge and inform management of the heritage resource, thereby strategically informing policies of the County Development Plan and the decision making process that flows from it.

Wicklow’s County Development Board Strategy, “Outlook 2002–12” sets out a shared vision for the economic, social and cultural development of the county. The Heritage Plan has an important role in complementing the cultural aspects of that Plan and in carrying out specific actions. The Heritage Plan also promotes the principle of local community involvement, which is very much at the heart of Local Agenda 21.

COUNTY WICKLOW HERITAGE PLAN 2004–08

The County Wicklow Heritage Plan 2004–08 was the first Heritage Plan for the county and was prepared by the Wicklow Heritage Forum and coordinated by the Wicklow County Council Heritage Officer. The setting up of the Heritage Forum with a widely representative composition from local authority, statutory, and non statutory environmental, local development, agricultural, community and business sectors in County Wicklow marked a new approach to heritage management and consultation in the county. That Plan set out a work strategy under the themes of; raising awareness of heritage at a local level; collection and collation of information; enhancement of heritage protection; and the encouragement of greater community participation.

Further information about actions implemented under the Heritage Plan 2004–08 can be found in Appendix 3, some of the key achievements under each of these themes are as follows;

Raising Awareness of Heritage: hosting of public events and training seminars on archaeology, architectural heritage, development of recreational trails, oral history recording, historic graveyards, development of bi-annual heritage newsletter, production of wildlife brochures and heritage calendars.

Collection & Collation of Information: Traditional buildings of rural County Wicklow survey, Mining Heritage of Wicklow publication, Guide to Archaeology in County Wicklow.

Enhancement of Heritage Protection: Local biodiversity area studies and urban habitat mapping, Architectural Conservation Areas studies, Public Realm Plan for Wicklow Town, Village Design statements.

Encouragement of greater community participation: Community Action Days, Tidy Towns training, introduction of heritage category into Annual Wicklow County Council Community and Heritage Awards scheme.

HOW THIS PLAN WAS PREPARED

This Heritage Plan was prepared following the Heritage Council’s methodology. The Heritage Forum was revised in January 2009, with new organisations invited to attend, and new individuals coming on board from the various nominating groups. (See Appendix 2 for full list of membership). The process was agreed, and the public invited to make submissions during a six-week period from February to March. A questionnaire template was made available as an optional format for making a submission, and the heritage officer contacted various groups and individuals directly. The process was widely advertised in local press and radio and featured in the Spring Heritage Wicklow newsletter. In total 30 written submissions were received.

Three working groups were set up consisting of members of the Forum and relevant outside expertise. The working groups were Natural Heritage, Built Heritage and Local Heritage and Culture. The working groups met two to three times each to review the various submissions received, discuss issues of relevance and to draft proposed actions for the Heritage Plan. The Heritage Forum met in May ‘09 to hear reports from each working group, and agreed a set of actions. The steps involved in the process of preparing the Plan are summarised below.

Heritage Plan preparation process:

1. Advertise the intention to prepare a County Wicklow Heritage Plan 2009–14 and invite public submissions (February 10th - 26th March 2009).
2. Identify heritage issues and needs based on the information gathered (March - May).
3. Set up working groups to formulate objectives and specific actions (March - May).
4. Secure agreement from the Heritage Forum to the draft Heritage Plan (28th May).
5. Present the draft Heritage Plan to elected members of Wicklow County Council to approve (6th July).
6. Place the draft on public display and carry out public consultation (6th July - 20th August).
7. Consider submissions to the draft, and re-submit the amended plan to the elected members for adoption. (Adopted by Wicklow County Council 7th September 2009).

HOW THIS PLAN WILL BE IMPLEMENTED

The Heritage Plan is a five-year work plan for the period 2009–2014. The Wicklow Heritage Forum, Wicklow County Council and The Heritage Council are key partners in the delivery of the Plan. Each year a detailed work programme will be drawn up from the actions in this Plan, which will be submitted to the Heritage Council and other funding agencies listing priorities as appropriate.

Funding: The Heritage Council has agreed, in principle, to consider the Plan as a five-year strategic funding application. The Heritage Council will consider funding actions in the Plan, consistent with normal funding criteria, which are compatible with its objectives.

Wicklow County Council is committed to delivering the County Wicklow Heritage Plan in partnership with others over the next five years as resources permit. The Council will consider funding allocation for the delivery of the Plan in accordance with the annual budget. The Council will also support the delivery of the Plan through the work of its Heritage Officer and other professional staff.

The commitment of other key partners to funding actions in the Plan, will largely be dependant on their funding allocations and remits, and will be decided when work programmes are being drawn up.

Partners: As the annual work programme is agreed, commitments will be sought from relevant partners, including other additional partners (as the need arises) for implementing key actions. There will be ongoing consultation with other relevant organisations regarding participation in proposed actions. The lead partner responsible for ensuring the delivery of actions will be highlighted as part of the agreed work schedule.

Monitoring and Evaluation: The County Wicklow Heritage Plan sets out a series of actions to be achieved over a five-year period. The annual work programme will detail the projects to be undertaken, and the partners responsible for their delivery. The Wicklow Heritage Forum will monitor the annual work programme, and will meet a minimum of four times annually to review and evaluate progress. Working groups will be convened as needed for the purposes of achieving specific actions in the work programme.

III. THE PLAN: OBJECTIVES & ACTIONS

The overall aim of the County Wicklow Heritage Plan, as set out by the Wicklow Heritage Forum is

“To conserve the natural, built and cultural heritage of the county, and to increase awareness and enjoyment of it among all in Wicklow”

The actions in the Plan have been arranged under four main objectives as listed below. The actions in the Plan are the delivery mechanism through which the objectives can be achieved.

OBJECTIVES

2. To develop and encourage best practice in order to deliver practical actions to enhance the protection of heritage in County Wicklow.
3. To compile information on County Wicklow’s heritage resource in order to better understand it and to ensure the effective use of heritage data in policy formulation and decision making in the county.
4. To encourage partnership and active participation among all for the benefit of heritage in County Wicklow.

ACTIONS

1. Raise awareness and promote appreciation and enjoyment of heritage in County Wicklow.

- 1.1 Enhance public awareness of heritage in County Wicklow through circulating a Heritage Office newsletter, holding public events and training courses, optimising heritage content of Wicklow Local Authorities website, and utilising local media.
- 1.2 Develop heritage notice boards at a selection of key community venues throughout the county, at which members of the public can access information.

3. Compile information on County Wicklow's heritage in order to better understand it.

- 3.1 Support the production of an index of historical sources for County Wicklow to support historical research efforts. Include in this index, local journals, research projects, publications and other archival sources and relevant contacts.
- 3.2 Develop an initiative with local groups in County Wicklow to use oral history and written sources to collate information on field names in the County.
- 3.3 Carry out an audit of heritage sites in County Wicklow for tourism potential. The audit should look at issues such as site vulnerability, environmental sensitivities, car parking, visitor access, interpretation, links to public transport, and an assessment of the overall capacity of the site to operate as a tourist attraction.
- 3.4 Carry out a study in partnership with tourism and local development agencies, to evaluate the economic value of heritage to tourism in County Wicklow, include within the scope of this study consideration of the projected impacts of climate change on the heritage of coastal areas, and the ensuing economic implications.
- 3.5 Carry out an audit and interpretation of significance, of local heritage collections in County Wicklow, and national collections containing material of Wicklow interest. Seek and support the development of suitable facilities in the county for the public display of this material.
- 3.6 Carry out studies as resources permit, to identify locally important biodiversity areas, and local cultural heritage features in County Wicklow. Use the results from these to inform local authority plans, actions and strategies, particularly where such habitats and features are vulnerable to climate change effects, or where they may be incorporated into adaptation measures for dealing with climate change effects.
- 3.7 Investigate the possibility of carrying out a regional study with neighbouring counties, to identify and quantify the economic benefits of biodiversity.

- 3.8 Undertake a survey of bridges and relevant culverts in County Wicklow to identify fauna usage and assess whether any impediments to passage exist, particularly in light of ongoing changes in climate and rainfall patterns etc. Use this information to carry out retrofitting of features such as nest boxes, fish baffles and mammal ledges wherever possible.
- 3.9 Carry out an audit of geological heritage sites in County Wicklow in partnership with the GSI.
- 3.10 Support initiatives to enhance the statutory protection of sensitive and vulnerable landscape areas in County Wicklow through the compilation of baseline (landscape/cultural/ecological) information and/or management plans as needed to inform this process.
- 3.11 Carry out a survey of the coastline and intertidal zone in County Wicklow to identify cultural heritage features, habitats, and recreational amenities sensitive to the effects of climate change (such as increased storms, erosion and rising sea levels). Use this information to plan and prioritise actions in relation the protection of heritage and recreational amenity resources.

4. Encourage partnership and active participation.

- 4.1 Support the work of historical groups in County Wicklow by facilitating training on the collation, publication and digitisation of historical material. As a follow up, consider holding a County Wicklow historical seminar.
