Sir,

I am making the following submission to the review of the county development plan, specifically relating to small villages:

Access to water and wastewater treatment should be prioritized within villages, rather than encouraging sporadic development outside the villages by default. In the village of Ballycoog, I have been waiting for fourteen years for access to the wastewater treatment facility. This wastewater facility is importing waste from outside its' catchment as local access is impossible. Proper collection infrastructure is required. The County Council should be working with Irish Water to progress this matter.

Yours faithfully,
Elizabeth Battye.
