Write your observations here:

The town cannot sustain any more development. We've been living with large development for 12 years without proper planning or consultation. The county development plan was completely ignored. The roads are full, congestion is everywhere. Greystones, Delgany and the N11 are over capacity already. The rail network can't run any more trains. We've been living with roadworks since development took off 11 years ago. The changes to infrastructure provided by the council are inadequate and without consultation. A couple of examples

1. The road works in Delgany that were supposed to last 3 months and are now going on for 18 months, an engineering fiasco.
2. The appalling works that were imposed on church road during Covid by the council, again without consultation.

The town needs space to breathe, not more development. More houses will further deteriorate the situation, especially with this council's track record on delivering infrastructure.
