Scotland Dec the 28th 1888

Dear Sir Mail W.H.

as I do not feel like going to the Board today I just wish to let you know something about the parties having the Children in the house about which we were to report on this day.

If you have your report made and that you and Mr Byrne agree on it it I am satisfied you may put my name to it also.

© Wicklow County Archives

Miley and the Byrnes went in to the house for medical treatment and when they were well the Guardians with the knowledge of most of the ratepayers let them stay on so consequently the blame should not be left on the Master. I think this is all the information necessary and you can use it as you wish

Yours truly Nicholas O'Toole

John Mileys father never does anything for him or his mother. He is a bad man and deserves the Law.

The four Byrnes father is a Widower who would do for them if he could & as for the Kanes it would not be fair to follow the Stepfather as he had to leave their mother because he could not live with her

In reply to the resolution asking me what authority had I for putting two Tenants into houses at Coolmanagh I think it may be held that strictly speaking I had no authority but that I followed a usual custom.

On the 24th December I found that these two houses were so nearly completed that I wrote to Mr P. Butler P.L.G. and to the Board to say that if the Tenants had been selected they might occupy them.

Now these houses had been considerably injured by being kept close and damp. It is quite possible that the plaster may loosen and this danger was getting greater every day.

I saw them again on the 16th February and I found them to be quite fit for occupation. I told two of the tenants whose names I had seen mentioned in the Local papers that they might take the Keys, light fires and keep the rooms aired: but that they were only Caretakers until after the Guardians had sanctioned them as Tenants. I may add that the parties to whom I spoke told me that they had signed their bonds. I understand that this statement was not quite correct." The consideration of the foregoing letter was postponed till
