Parts of Chapel Road and the road through Delgany village need significant upgrades to account for all the new developments.

We just moved into Littlebrook and love it here but it's very tricky to walk the pram down to Delgany village and on the other side going down towards Lidl, it's hard in the dark evenings to walk through bad paths and parts with no street lights.

There also should be more cycle and walking routes directly down to Greystones village and the sea. This would encourage more people to use the Dart and to drive less. The road design prioritises cars but I think the roads between Delgany through to where Tesco is and then down on to Greystones could be all linked with 3 or 4 greenways.
