Poor Law Union of _____

DISEASES OF ANIMALS ACT, 1894.

RABIES (IRELAND) ORDER, 1895.

MUZZLING OF DOGS.

NOTICE is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Guardians of the Poor Law Union of _____, acting as the Local Authority under the Diseases of Animals Act, 1894, on the _____ day of _____ 189____, the following Regulations were made, namely:—

1. On and after the _____ day of _____ 189____, every dog whilst in or on any public place in the Poor Law Union of _____, whether led or not, shall be securely muzzled with a properly fitting muzzle, so constructed as to render it impossible for such dog while wearing the same to bite any person or animal, but not so as to prevent such dog from breathing freely, or lapping water.

This Regulation shall not apply to dogs in charge of competent persons while being used for sporting purposes, or for the capture and destruction of vermin.

2. Any dog found in or on any public place within the said Poor Law Union, not being muzzled as required in Regulation 1, shall be seized and detained; and, in addition to any penalty to which the owner of such dog may be liable for the breach of Regulation No. 1, all expenses connected with such detention may be recovered from the owner of such dog in a Court of Summary Jurisdiction; and, further, if such dog is not claimed within three days from the date of the seizure thereof, it shall be killed or otherwise disposed of as may be directed by the Local Authority, or by an Inspector or Officer authorized by the Local Authority in that behalf.

3. These Regulations shall continue in force until altered or revoked.

PENALTIES.

The Diseases of Animals Act, 1894, provides that contravention of a Regulation of a Local Authority thereunder is an offence against the Act, which renders the offender liable to a penalty not exceeding £20 for every such offence.

By order,

Clerk of the Union.

Dated at _____

Privy Council Office,

Dublin Castle,

No. 3781/1889.

REGULATIONS FOR RABIES.

SIR,

I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to request that you will be so good as to acquaint your Local Authority that His Excellency is advised that in making regulations directing the muzzling of dogs on account of Rabies, it would be desirable for the Local Authority to insist on the muzzling of all dogs (other than dogs while being used for sporting purposes, or for the capture and destruction of vermin, and in charge of competent persons,) whilst being in any public place, whether the dogs are led or not, with a muzzle so constructed as to render it impossible for the dog while wearing the same to bite any person or animal. Any alternative regulation which permits a leading strap or chain to be substituted for the muzzle does not afford sufficient security, it being clear that a led dog (if he is unmuzzled) is able to bite any person or animal that may happen to pass within his reach; and this objection applies even more strongly to an alternative regulation which permits dogs to be in a public place under what is called control.

It would probably be useful if at the foot of hand bills or notices announcing regulations, the following short description of the most marked symptoms of Rabies were given:—

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,

W. S. B. KAYE.

The Clerk of the Union.
