Currently in New Zealand. They have these amazing all year round hot pools by the sea, open from sunrise to sunset. (File attached). Would be an amazing tourist and local attraction..

As a campervan owner, motorhome camping is huge in Europe and UK and is now becoming very popular in Ireland. There are some terrific sites around Ireland, private and public (check out Aire sites). I often see requests on Facebook motorhome sites wondering is there any overnight camping spots in Arklow. The only one is Tinahask farm. There is a magnificent one, called the hub in Kilkenny. With these two attractions alone, Arklow could be a real hive for tourism.
