To Whom It Concerns,

I would like to add my concern and objection to the planned proposal for the rezoning of land in the Powerscourt demesne in Co. Wicklow adjacent to Kilgarron Park, from agricultural to residential status.

Please listen to the voice of people who live in the surroundings of a small village, Enniskerry, where over the past few decades the area is becoming choked for the size that it is. It is a continuous puzzle to me that the governance of this country and county will focus large development into concentrated areas close to Dublin while towns that are being abandoned around Ireland are desperate for regeneration, housing and preservation of community.

Please consider the imbalance that is being created for short term gain by a small number of people at the expense of the lifestyle of citizens in communities that are either overcrowding or those that are emptying. Plan for the benefit of the whole island and not for the lucrative gains of a minority.

Yours sincerely,
John Timmons.
